Division Head, Division of Maternal Fetal Medicine (MFM) Department of Obstetrics & Gynaecology Internal Posting

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of British Columbia, is seeking applications for the position of UBC Division Head for the Division of Maternal Fetal Medicine (MFM).

The role of Division Head is to engage and work collaboratively with MFM Division members, throughout the province to develop a shared vision of teaching, educational leadership and research for the Division.

The role of the Division Head, Division of Maternal Fetal Medicine is to promote, support and facilitate divisional academic and other activities to align with the Departmental Strategic Plan and to engage with faculty across the province.

The members of the Division are committed to excellence in clinical care, continuing professional development, knowledge translation and implementation, teaching and research in all aspects of women's health.

The successful candidate will be an experienced leader with diplomacy, vision, intellectual curiosity, and skills in collaboration and conflict resolution. You have proven leadership ability, with proven communication and interpersonal skills. You are capable of leading staff, problem solving, achieving results, and developing collaborations. You have proven experience in building positive partnerships with strategic partners. A strong communicator and facilitator, you possess excellent mentoring abilities and have an enthusiasm for teaching and research.

Your expertise will strengthen the culture of innovation and best practice in the Division and Department, in an environment focused on quality and safety. Working collaboratively with an interdisciplinary team, you will contribute to the senior leadership of the Department.

You lead by example by providing support to your Division members and developing strong working relationships through interprofessional collaboration.

Applicants must be eligible to hold a clinical or academic appointment at UBC. Consideration will be given to a dual leadership model.

This role is expected to be 0.2FTE (one day per week) and compensated at $40,000 per annum. This position reports to the UBC Department Head, Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology.
